4.8 Service Interruption Measurement

In the event of an interruption of Service that exceeds the minimum requirements set forth in this paragraph, the Company shall make a credit allowance at the Customer's request for a pro rata adjustment of all Service charges billed by the Company for Services rendered inoperative by the interruption. 5.4 Computation of Distance

Certain offerings of the Company for Interstate Long Distance Service may be rated on the basis of mileage bands. If rating for a Service is based on mileage bands, the applicable rate section in Section 9 will indicate the mileage bands. If mileage bands are not indicated in Section 9 for an offering, mileage bands do not apply.

(a) For calls rated on the basis of mileage bands, calls are rated on the basis of airline mileage locations of the caller and the called party, regardless of the call's routing. (b) Airline mileage is obtained by using the "V" and "H" coordinates assigned to each point. To determine the airlines distance between any two cities, the airline mileage is determined as follows: (1) Obtain the "V" and "H" coordinates for each city. (2) Obtain the difference between the "V" coordinates of each of the cities. Obtain the difference between the "H" coordinates. (3) Square each difference obtained in step 2, above. (4) Add the square of the "V" difference and the "H" difference obtained in step 3, above. (5) Divide the number obtained in step 4 by 10. Round to the next higher whole number if any fraction is obtained. (6) Obtain the square root of the whole number obtained in step 5 above. Round to the next higher whole number if any fraction is obtained. This is the airline mileage.
